AMERICAN PRAIRIE ARTISTS

A FILM by WILLIAM STETZ

WILLIAM STETZ – DIRECTOR BIOGRAPHY

William Stetz has molded portrayals of the dramatic forms of life through the lens for over twenty years as a photographer, art director, animator, digital artist and director. He is a self-taught fine art photographer with numerous exhibition and collection credits. Early in his growth, he learned the craft of acting through professional theatre training and work performances on stage. He has moved vertically in the entertainment industry ascending from positions such as production grip, adding lengthy credits as art director, production designer and director for both video and film projects of commercial and television presentations. William Stetz is a native of Illinois and now resides in Southern California.
